

Busycon carica live taken with operc and jewel like glistening deep fire orange aperture. Nice size, a little under 7" nice lip except for some chipping near the terminal end more than made up for the hard to find stunning orange aperture!. Excellent for the species! These guys live a hard life and to get them in this condition can be very difficult and being carnivorous they have a tendency to chip their own lips in the feeding process! Pictures don't do this specimen justice! Live taken at Oak Beach, Fire Island Inlet, Suffolk Co. Long Island TODAY!(1/1/18!!!!)This specimen can be cleaned up for sure on the outside at discretion of new owner,make no mistake,this is a SPECIMEN SHELL,not polished craft junk!
