

Forreria belcheri

100mm (short spine - deep water variation). From an old collection, this one came from gill nets off Newport, California in deeper water than they are typically found probably causing slower growth of the spines as the water temp is cooler than harbors and bays where they are normally found. F+ This one has the operculum.

16 $, Jan 2019

