

rapana venosa or Asian rapa whelk or veined whelk, from the Western Pacific.

This attractive shell is from the predatory marine gastropod, (sea snail) rapa venosa. They can grow up to 180 mm and are native to the marine and estuarine waters of the western Pacific.

A beautiful, very decorative natural curiosity.

Length: 3 1/2 inches.

6 $, Fev 13

