

Turritriton tenuiliratus* Lischke each have the operculum and measure 46 mm and 50 mm. The smaller specimen has periostracum. The canals are not perfect. The larger specimen has a nick on the apex and a growth mark on the canal.

Data: In fish nets at approximately 150-200 feet, Yokohama, Honshu Island, Japan 12 June 1962

9 $, Aug 2019

