

Notocypraea comptonii comptonii Gray, J.E., 1847, 21.5mm., nice shell, endemic of Australia

ENDEMIC of South Australia, Tasmania.

Nice, colorful, fully mature shell, live taken by SCUBA diver at 30 meters at Thorny Passage, near Port Lincoln, South Australia in 2000. A few soft growth lines typical for Notocypraea. F++/Gem-

Notocypraea are hard to complete group of Cypraea. Not easy to get specimen shell in reasonable quality, live taken

6 $, May 2020 (ach)

