

Pleuroploca granosa (Broderip, 1832), Vera Cruz, Camarones, Panama, dived in 8m depth, live taken specimen shell.

A smoked salmon color aperture and a body crowned by prominent shoulder knobs with contrasting grey color on milky white body are the main characteristics of this beautiful and attractive shell.

15 $, Juin 14

