

Pterynotus dennanti 57.2 mm (Tate, 1888) 38.7 mm, Victoria, Australia, now available. This is a very rarely offered example of the intriguing and spectacular Australian Miocene (15 million years) murex. In overall superb condition (apart from a triangular chip near the dorsal frill it is hard to fault).

41 $, May 2019

