

Pterynotus velificus (Tate, 1888) 27.7 mm Victoria, Australia.
Age: Middle Miocene (approximately 14.5 million years). This shell is in unbelievably good condition given its extremely fragile, wafer-thin wings and great age, a truly stunning fossil suitable for an advanced collection. An absolute jewel!

43 $, Jan 2019

