

Umbilia angustior (Pritchard, 1898)

This sleek, dark glossy piece is absolutely top-of-the-range for this species - combining exquisite beauty, entirely free of repair and in outstanding condition, and very large size, this offer is one of a kind. A unique piece worthy of any Umbilia or fossil collection.

Tasmania, Australia. Size: 73.6 mm. Age: Early Miocene.

1665 $, Fe 2021

