

Spondylus pickeringae
Lamprell, 1998

Size: ~ 122mm maximum length

Quality: F++

Very beautiful specimen.

It is very unique, there are large gapes between large magnificent spines and the valves are very wide.

It has the smallest possible attach area.

Great quality for this rare species!

Collected in relatively deep scuba dive.

It was found attached to a tiny shell buried with soft sand.

It is very hard to get it today in north Sinai.
