

Festilyria festiva decepatrix

Unusual local form! 72.1 mm

Masirah Isl. Oman. This specimen is very different from the "classic" decepatrix, it has a significantly smaller size, elongated shape and absolute absence of the red teleoconch whorls. Given all of the above, perhaps this is a new subspecies that needs more detailed study. This specimen is found dead

82 $, Jan 2020

